TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 5.

EUESCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Postage), PER MONTH.....

VOL 29.....NO. 10,059 ed at the Post-Office at New York as second-class

BRANCH OFFICES : ORLD UPTOWN OFFICE-1267 Broadway be world uprown office—1207 Broadway Setween Sist and 32d sts., New York.
BROCKLYN—359 Fulton st. Harlem—News
Department, 150 East 125rs st.: Advertisements at 237 East 115rs st. PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Lemoar Building, 112 South St.
WASHINGTON—610 14th st.
LONDON OFFICE—32 Cocaspur st., Trayaloar

Last Sunday's Circulation,

286,020. Average Number of Worlds Printed Per Day During February : 325,532.

The Daily Average Circulation of THE CUARANTEED TO EXCEED THAT OF THE HERALD, SUN AND TIMES COMBINED.

WHAT HE DIDN'T SAY.

In his inaugural address President HARRI sow said a number of sensible things. But it is what he didn't say that now seems of the

He said nothing about the slump in Kings County, which was so large a factor in hi selection, nor had he one syllable of reproval for the bad methods of those who paid for

He uttered no word about the "blocks of five" which made their appearance in his own State just before the election and suc cumbed to financial arguments in favor of the Republican ticket.

He omitted to explain precisely why h took JOHN MONEYMAKER into his Cabinet. He neglected to observe that the surplus is fattened on the necessities of the poor to feed the luxuries of the rich.

He failed to state that the pean of Plutocracy, which echoed down Pennsylvania avenue even while he spoke celebrated the triumphant communism of capital.

He didn't even explain: "Why I Am Here" or "Who Did It with Their Little

BRAWN AND BRAIN.

Two dukes, four earls, a viscount, two lords and a baronet will receive the American baseball players when they reach London. No visitors from the United States to Great Britain ever had so distinguished a welcome. Brawn-and brain-will yet rule the world, when coronets have crumbled and baronial halls become beer caves.

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

THE FIRST DAY AS PRESIDENT.

Mountate)

"What Would You Do, If President, On Your First Official Day?" Could each one rule as he is bent, Old Nick would be to pay!

I'd fire the Weather Bureau. And inaugurate reform That would let a President go in Without a driving storm !

I'd have the office-holders Arranged in "blocks of five," And give each "Demmy" just an hour To leave th' official hive !

I'd silver-plate the White House, And on the Avenue I'd lay down golden paving-stones-

Sing cock-s-boodle-boo! I'd sell off all the White House stock Dirt cheap, and straightaway I'd refurnish the Departments

In Philadelphia! "What would I do if President?"

Young man you make me faint! You come to a Cabinet meeting And just see if I sin't!

New Harlem Social Club. The Eolian Social Club, of Harlem, has been organized at the residence of Matthew J. Wall, jr., 253 East One Hundred and Twenty-second et, and has among its members Jerome F. Beilly, formerly President of the Eolian Athletic Club; Charles K. Cohen, Vice-President of the Pilgrim Athletic Club; Matthew J. Wall, Engene Emanuel, Peter Phelan, Joseph Vieht, Clarence Cohen, John Humberg and John Voor-hees. The Club is about to hire rooms on East One Hundred and Twenty-second street, where it will have a library and gymnasium.

Second Adventists all over the world observe to-day as the autocipative anniversary of Christ's second coming in the air or their Great Day of Days, which they calculate will take place Thursday, March 5, 1896. On this date they are approsed that 144,000 watchful living Christians will be translated to heaven without

THE spasms so common during teething are prevented by MORRELL'S TRETHING CORDIAL. Price 25 cents."."

CHAMPION DREAMER.

Judge Hawthorne Awards the Prize to J. E. J. Buckey, of Cumberland, Md.

The Successful Dream and an Affidavit as to Its Genuineness.

Very Interesting Report on the Competition from Julian Hawthorne.

THE SUCCESSFUL DREAM.

I dreamed one night last Summer that I met a man of small stature, dark complexion, black hair and heavy black mustache, fashionably dressed, on the corner of Centre and Baltimore streets, in this city. Some quarrel arose, and I shot him in the neck. Some of his blood spurted on my white vest. The next morning about 10 o'clock, as I was turning the corner above mentioned, I met the dream man. He sprang back with a cry, covered his neck with his hand, and said: "For God's sake, don' shoot me!" We were both too much shocked to speak for some moments. Explanations followed. We had both dreamed the same thing. Oddly enough, in looking at my vest afterwards I found a smear of something red on it about the size of a quarter. This had been concealed by my coat and had not been noticed in the hurry of dressing. A chemist afterwards removed the stain and said it was J. E. J. BUCKEY. Cumberland, Md.

MR. BUCKEY'S AFFIDAVIT.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 2, 1889. The dream sent by me to the New York EVEN-ING WORLD was genuine in all particulars. The participant was also last heard of by me in Los J. E. J. BUCKEY.

State of Maryland, Alleghany County, to wit: I hereby certify that on this 2d day of March, 1889, before me, the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace of the State of Maryland, in and for said county, personally appeared the above J. E. J. Buckey, and made oath in due form of law tha the foregoing statement is true, to the best of his noteleage and bettef. J. B. WIDENER, J. P.

Stands Well with the Local Paper. To the Editor of The Evening World We have no reason to question E. J. Buckey, of this town. JAMES SCHILLING, Maryland Daity Ness.

Cumberland, Ma., March 4

JUDGE HAWTHORNE'S DECISION.

This tournament has been interesting in more ways than one. It has revealed an imaginative side in the American public—at least when they are asleep. A novelist might get hints from this collection. Again, assuming the dreams to be bona fide, it goes near to establish the new theory of telepathy, and even of prophetic clairvoyance. A majority of the dreams belong to the two latter classes. Of course, it is no part of my present duty to pronounce upon the credibility or accuracy of the competitors. The person who takes the prize will be required to make affidavit that he actually dreamed as he said he did. Many of the dreams are also interesting intrinsically, as picturesque or striking combinations. Altogether, it has been worth double eagle merely to peruse these romances of the night. SOME NOTABLE DREAMS.

As might have been foreseen, the dreams divide themselves into two general categoriesthose which are curious in themselves, and tho which are curious as demonstrating an inexplicable (or unexplained) power of the mind. Somewhat against my own sympathies. I have been driven to the equelusion that it is to the best among the latter class that the sward should be given. 'To the most remarkable dream' is the wording of the contract—not to the most remarkable dreamer. Now, the dreams of several of the competitors are charming little stories, indicating a quality of mind on the dreamers' part both cultivated and original. Such, for example, is "Nirvana's experience"— of travelling on a "Space Annihilator" to the planet Venus, and there witnessing a trial of speed between a ray of light and a current of electricity, the course being to Jupiter and return. Others are oddly grotesque, as in the case of "L H. E.," of Yonkers, who dreamed that his soul had disengaged itself from his body and was dodging about the room in the shape of a scap-bubble ; or of Mr. Biglow, of Forsyth street, New York. who saw a Chinese army bombarding its enemy with the skulls of prisoners; or of Mr. Mack, of Trentou, N. J., who oversaw a huge beetle checking his accounts, and who was thereby led to the discovery of an error therein. Other dreams have special peculiarities. Mr. John C. Graham, for example, who, at the time of the Indian Mutiny was a boy in India, and underwent a tragic experience there, finds himself rehearsing that terrible episode as often as he is visited by nightmare, and swearing in good Hindostani, though in his waking hours he is unable to recall a word of that language. "M. L. B.," a deaf and dumb girl, dreamed she was in a tree gathering apples. Her head was knocked off by a branch, and she "saw it" on the ground, looking up at herself. But by the time she had clambered down to recover it, it was nothing but the head of a dead hen. SYMBOLICAL VISIONS.

The dreams of rarest occurrence in this tournament are those of a symbolical character, such as we find interpreted in Scripture. "C. B." dreamed of standing on the bank of a river with a family of his acquaintance, who were trying to recover a green bough that had floated out in the stream. This bough represented their little daughter, and her life depended upon their securing it. They failed to do so, and in the sequel the child actually died of fever. "F. L. S." saw his son out at sea in a boat drawn by a white horse. When the boat came ashore it was a large wooden bowl covered over the top, and containing the drowned body of the boy in miniature. The father resuscitated it with difficulty. Next day arrived news that this same boy was dangerously ill with pneumonia. but the father succeeded in saving him. A weird dream is that of "Mrs. S. D.," whose mother, a "lovely and good "old lady, is in the habit of visiting the daughter's dreams in the guise of a threatening fiend.

THE MOST NUMEROUS DREAMS. The prophetic and clairvoyant dreams are, as I have said, the most numerous. "L. A. 8."

Purify Your Blood When Spring approaches, it is very important that the blood should be purified, as at this season impu-rities which have been accumulating for months or even years are liable to manifest themselves and serious! affect the health. Hood's Barsaparilla is undoubted the best blood purifier. It expels every taint, drives out acrefulous humors, and gives to the blood the quality and tone essential to good health

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. 61, six for 65. Prepared only by G. I. HOOD & CO., Apotheoaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 DUNKS ONE BOLLAR

had been separated from his brother for a lifetime, and knew nothing of his whereabouts One night he dreamed he saw a man run ove in a certain street by a horse and dray, and that this man called to him and said: "I am your brother." The next day he made inquiries. learned that such an accident had really or curred in that place a month previous, and that the victim of it had been taken to the hospital. Thither he went, and found his brother. just healed of a broken leg. "M. A.T." dreams that her dead sister appeared and said to her little daughter: "Go to our mother." "M. A. T.. " on awaking, feared that she was to lose her daughter; but on visiting her mother the next day, found her dying of pneumonia. Mr. G. M. Galloway, about to visit for the first time the town of Titusville. Pa., dreamed that he had arrived there, was driven by his uncle to the latter's house, and was there shown to his room by his aunt (who was dead and whom he had never seen). When, the next day, he actually reached Titusville, he picked out his uncle it the crowd at the station, though this was their first meeting, and additionally astonished him by accurately describing the house, its furniture and arrangements, and the people in it and wound up by finding his way to the hou itself. "Lillian Mabella" had a friend who had quarrelled with her brother, and had not spoken to him for a year. She (Lillian) dreamed that she saw this brother struck and killed by the falling fragment of a building in a strange city The pext day she learned that the brother wa really going to the city in question. She told her friend the dream, and induced her to be recconciled with her brother, who was duly killed three weeks later by a falling chimney.

But it is time to come to our verdict. Admiting that the prophetic dreams are the most remarkable of all, from the psychological standpoint, it follows that the most remarkable prophetic dream will be that in which two distinct and unrelated persons simultaneously dream the same episode, which episode afterwards really takes place. Such an occurrence is certainly extraordinary, and can happen only very selde But Mr. J. E. J. Buckey, of Cumberland, Md., would appear to be the hero of such an event. Here is his story in his own words: "I dreamed one night last Summer that I met a man of small stature, dark complexion, black hair and heavy black mustache, fashionably dressed, on the corner of Centre and Baltimore streets, in this city. Some quarrel arose and I shot him in the neck. Some of his blood spurted on my white vest. The next morning about 10 o'clock, as I was turning the corner above mentioned. I met the dream man. He sprang back with a cry, covered his neck with his hand, and said. 'For God's sake, don't shoot me!' We were both too much shocked to speak for some moments. Explanations followed. We had both dreamed the same thing. Oddly spough, in looking at my vest afterwards found a smear of something on it, about the size of a quarter. This had been concealed by my coat, and had not been noticed in the hurry of dressing. A chemist afterwards removed the stain and said it was human blood. I call that the most remarkable dream of the tournament. I should be giad to hear the other gentleman's version of the story. If the dream is properly authenticated, I hereby award the gold double-eagle to Mr. J. E. J. Buckey. of Cumberland, Md.

Artist Cowley Beats a Retreat. stir last week by advertising for lost diamonds his studio at $2 West Fourteenth street of its furniture and is said to have quit the town. The janitor says Cowley owes $70 rent, and Joseph H. Gardner, of Dover, O., who says his sister is Mrs. Cowley No. 1, and that the artist has two others, is looking for Cowley with a war-rant and blood in his eye.

The Land Wurster Club. At the annual meeting of the Land Wurster Club the following officers have just been unanimously elected: Edward Colpe, President; E.
H. Eberhardt, Vice-President; H. Schlobohm,
jr. Secretary; J. H. Hachmann, jr. Treasurer;
F. E. Dannemann, E. H. Hinners, H. Kugeler,
Trustees; C. Colpe, J. F. Meyer, W. Lohmann, Finance Committee.

Notes of Labor.

The Miscellaneous Section will meet to-night a usual at 145 Eighth street. A central branch of the Brother of United La-or has been organized in this city. The Marble, Slate and Tile Workers' Union, of Pittsburg, will demand nine hours as a day's work from and after April 8. Sixty unions and local assemblies of Philadelganized a Central Labor Union

The bricklayers and masons of Newport, B. I. have demanded $3.50 per day after April 1, and expect to get it without a strike.

Pittsburg iron and steel mills are making great preparations for the large quantities of material to be used for new war vessels.

material to be used for new war vessels.

The green glassworkers of the United States and Causads are once more Knights of Labor, the Eastern Green League having joined District Assembly 149. The membership is 1,000.

The Progressive Cabinet Makers' Union wants the Central Labor Federation carried on in the German language, because that body is composed almost entirely of German organizations. The boss masons and the Bricklayers Unions have agreed upon $4.05 as the wages of brick-layers for the ensuing year for a day's work of nine hours for give days and eight hours on Sat-

New York leads in the list of local unions of the United Brotherhood of Engineers, having 60 in all. Pennsylvania has 55, Massachusetts 46, Illinois 37, Ohio 27, Michigan 26 and Cali-fornia 23.

forms 23.

Twenty-five hundred men, women and children are employed in the Government printing office at Washington. Congress has appropriated $50,000 for new buildings to accommodate additional hands.

The Executive Board of the Shoemakers' Na-tional Assembly of the K. of L. has given its reasons for leaving the order and joining the Federation of Labor. It says that the trades-union system has advantages not to be found in the K. of L. At a late meeting of the United Labor party of the Seventeenth Assembly District, held at 749 Ninth avenue, resolutions were adopted provid-ing for the operation of all railroads, telegraphs and telephones by the Government, and also in-dorsing the proposed amendments to the con-spiracy laws.

spiracy laws.

It is eight weeks since 1,600 operatives of the Higgins carpet mills struck against a reduction of wages, and they have remained firm and uncompromising. Other organizations are aiding them. The firm shows no disposition to yield, though it is said Mr. E. S. Higgins is desiron of making a settlement with his old hands.

The Lockswitch and Railing Maker' Union.

of making a settlement with his old hands.

The Locksmiths' and Railing-Makers' Union, which caused so much trouble in the Building Trades and Metal-Workers' Section, and caused the suspension of the latter, has been admitted to the Ceptral Labor Federation. The House-smiths' Union was opposed to the Locksmiths and Railing-Makers' Union because its members cut the scale of wages.

Typographical Union No. 6 has taken kindly to typesetting machines by resolving not to oppose their introduction into offices where the union scale is paid and the machines are operated by union men. The Union will take part in the eight-hour movement proposed by the American Federation of Labor. 'Big Six" has 4,000 members in good standing.

A $50.00 GOLD WATCH FOR ONLY ONE DOLLAR

er week on the instalment plan. The cases in this elsgant watch are warranted for 21 years. The me gant watch are warranted for 21 years. The movement full (15) jewelled. Only a small cash payment at first; balance can be paid in instalments of $1 per week. As we sell more watches in one month than most retail stores do in one year we can offer this watch for $38.00. We also sell a Ledy's Geld Watch for $35.00 on this same plan. Remember, we deliver the masse with your first payment. This is much botter them waiting ten mouths in a watch club.

Please call and szamine these watches, or if you will all send your name and address one of our agents will call at your house at any hour you desire with samples of several styles of watches and chains. Address Murphy & Co., Edom 14. 19ti Broadway. New York, M. T.

CONCENTRATED JOVIALITY

PUT UP IN SMALL PACKAGES FOR VERY BUSY PEOPLE.

An Object Lessen

Alcoholized Party-Greash Scott! That (hic

Free from Petty Vice.

(Prom the Critic.)
"What a large and handsome Vice-President you have, Mr. Harrison," said a lady as Mr. Morton passed by, "Yes," replied Mr. H., with a modest smile, "I have no small vices."

Rough on the Guest.

[From the New York Weekly.]
Famous Guest (author of "Ellen Robsmere" What is it, my little dear? Host's Sweet Child —Mamma says you're a sufferer from in-som-ni-a. Does it hurt? "Oh, no. Insomnia means inability to get to sleep," 'Is that all? Why don't you do like mamma does? She reads herself to sleep, and I'll ask her to lend you the book. It's called 'Ellen Robsmere."

The Modern Sermon.

"I haven't seen you at church lately, my boy. Come up Sunday, and hear the Rev. O. Break Away preach on the 'Derivation of the Pealter from a Sun Myth."

I am not interested in these modern ser-mons. If they would only let the service alone"

But you would never know that you were istening to a sermon!"

The Time He Didn't Run.

[From the Detroit Free Frees.]
Two or three weeks since we denounced Col. Hallimell as a claim-jumper, mule-stealer and wife-deserter, and added a few words to the efwhite-deserter, and added a lew words to the effect that he would look well at the end of a rope.

Saturday evening, as we were talking with the Cashier of the First Nafional Bank, the Colonel approached us and warned us to prepare for death. Greatly to our own amazement and to the intense surprise of the whole street, we didn't run.

didn't run.

On the contrary, we sailed into the Colonel like a brick house falling on a sand fly, and we had him licked inside of five minutes.

We can't account for these freaks in our nature. Sometimes we fight like a tornado, and again we run like a jack-rabbit.

People intending to lay for us must take their chances.

Simply Lucked Nerve. 'How did I get this black eye?" repeated the rummer, as he buckled the straps to his atchel. "Well, I tried to be smart."

"How?"

"I was at Seymour. Ind., and in a hurry to get my railroad ticket. So was snother chap. The ticket seller was alow, lazy and impudent. The other man pulled his gun, shoved it into the window and got his ticket ten seconds later. It was a hint for me."

"And you accepted it?"

"I did. I shoved my revolver into the window and gave the ticket man a quarter of a minute to get me a pastebuard."

"And he jumped."

"He did—jumped out of his office and broke me in two over a baggage truck. He's got my revolver yet."

"But how did it happen to work in one case and fail in another?"

"Oh, I souldn't keep my voice from trembling, and then I didn't have long hair and a fake."

A Western Lochinvar. [From the Chicago Neses.]

Young Lochinvar came in from the West
With fringe on flis trousers and fur on his vest;
The width of his hat-brim could nowhere be beat—
His number ten brogans were chock-full of feet; His girdle was horrent with pistols and things, And he flourished a handful of aces and kings.

The fair Mariana sate watching a star. When who should turn up but the young Lochin when who should turn up but the young Lochin-var!
Her pulchritude gave him a pectoral glow
And he reined up his hoss with stentorian
"whoa."
Then turned on the maiden a rapturous grin
And modestly asked if he mightn't step in.

With presence of mind that was marvellous quite The fair Mariana replied that he might; So in through the portal strode young Lochin-Pre-empted the claim and cleaned out the bar: Though the Justice allowed he wa'n't wholly to blame. He taxed him ten dollars and costs, just the Master Guy (who has grown very rapidly)-You needn't laugh, fellers. Just wait till your mothers go to see that blamed 'Little Lord Fauntleroy" every night for a week!

The Craze.

THE EAST SIDE'S NEW CLUB.

To Have a Pine House Without Delay, and

Be the Strongest in the State, The residents of the east side are worked up about their new home, the Steckler Asso ciation having been the means of supplying s ciation having been the means of supplying a long-needed want on that side of the town. They have been meeting every Monday night for the past four weeks, making arrangements to have their new club-house ready for eccupation by the first week in May. Fully 500 members have been enroiled during the past four weeks.

They have secured 112 Second avenue, which is one of the handsomest buildings in the Seventeenth Ward, and work will shortly be done to put it in proper shape. It is to be done to put it in proper shape. It is to contain a library, reading-room, gymnasium, billiard-rooms, and all other conveniences attached to a club of this kind. billiard-coma, and all other conveniences attached to a club of this kind.

At the meeting last night 105 new members were enrolled, among whom were Judge Henry A. Gildersieeve. Judge P. Henry Dugro, County Clerk Edward F. Reilly, Internal Revenue Collector Leonard A. Giegerich and a number of other prominent citizens. In addition to the sociability to be enjoyed by members of the Club, steps are also being taken to have an endowment branch created, whereby members' families will be benefited in case of death.

Addresses laudatory of this object were made by Judge Gildersleeve, Judge Steckler. Assemblyman George F. Rossch, Julius Harburger, Joseph Steiner and others. The Club, by the time it enters its new quarters, will no doubt be one of the strangest in the State, as about that time it will fully have 1,000 members.

Second Day's Session of the Novel Contest.

A Very Easy Way to Capture $20 in Gold.

Guy Carleton in Severe Training for the Day of Judgment.

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST.

THE EVENING WORLD offers a gold double eagle $20) for the best original conuntrum submitted, Henry Guy Carleton, the well-known humorist, will act as judge. Answers must accompany the conundrums in every instance. The contest will close at 6 P. M. Friday, March 8, being short like a good conundrum itself. On Saturday, March 9, the decision of the judge will if possible

Rough on Jules Verne. If a Robur should steal the provisions on the Albatross how would the voyagers keep from starving? Frycollin until Weldon would be a Prudent thing to do.

Another Geographical Conundrum. What was the most successful surgical operation performed in the United States?
Lansing, Michigan. Louise Molloy.
406 Henry street, Brooklyn. Both Are Indispensable.

Why is THE WORLD Almanac for 1889 like an indispensable article in the outfit of a merchant tailor? Because it's this year's (the shears).

Both Have Our Best Wishes Why is J. M. Hill, the theatrical manager, ike President Harrison? Because they are both going to run the Union square. WILLIAM MATTHEWS, Jr., 181 East One Hundred and Eleventh street.

Somewhat Paradoxical. Why is a man upstairs beating his wife like very good man?

Because he is above, doing a bad act. W. W. CRAWFORD, 188 Clifton place, Brooklyn. They Always Go Together.

Why is a stocking like a person out walk ng? Because they are both going on afoot, Suare V. Crowell, 20 South Portland avenue, Brooklyn.

Stolen From the Geography. What river in Bayaria answers the question who is there ?"

Isar.

MINNIE BELL, 502 East Eighty-muth street.

Only One Negotiable Though. Why will the bast conundrum submitted to THE EVENING WORLD resemble the national flag of Russia?

Because there is a double eagle in it.

James Eggo,

569 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn. Sounds Improbable.

What is it that you often go in search of, often find, but cannot see? W. D. VOORREES, jr., Bergen Point, N. J. Fresh air.

For Baseball Enthusiants. Why is last year's New York Baseball Club like the first half of Webster's Unabridged?

Because it has award (a Ward) in it.

HARLEM.

Appropriate for the Contest. My first stands for company. My second ahuns company.
My third calls company.
Answer—Co-nun-drum.
C. C. Har, Astor House.

Of Local Interest. Why is the new ceiling of the Capitol building at Albany like a conveyance of real state?

Because it's a ceiled (sealed) paper deed.
H. A. SOUCHET. estate ?

Some Slang About This. Why is the ceiling of the Assembly Chamber at Albany like a seal sacque?

Because it is a dead skin.

J. SHERWOOD, jr., Brooklyn.

Will Apply to Any Bird. What is there about an American eagle that epresents a United States banknote?
The bill.

J. STEELE SMALLEY, Somerville, N. J. Severe on the Jilted. Why is a young woman jilted by her lover like a certain kind of sword?

Because she is a cutlass.

'' WORLD '' READER.

Two of Fair Merit. When is a song like an unsound propos tion in logic? When it's an absurd ditty (absurdity).

When are a pugilist and an inveterate amoker equally unhappy?
When they are without a backer. THOS. BROWN, 772 Fuiton street, Brooklyn.

Appropriate to the Contest. What is the difference between the best and worst conundrum?
Twenty dollars. John Addison,
54 Lawrence street, Manhattanville.

Also Applies to Conundrums. Which is the oldest street in Philadelphia? Chestnut street.

P. O. Box 2,011, New York.

An Old Friend Appears. What trade would you recommend to short man? Grocer (grow sir). H. S. 568 Lexington avenue.

The Wonderful Carlsbad Springs.

A the Ninth International Stedical Congress, Dr. L.
A Toboldt, of the University of Pennsylvania, read paper stating that out of thirty cases treated with the gen une imported Carlebed Sprudel Sais, Powder form, for chronic constipacion, hypochondria, disease of the liver and kidneys, jaundice, edipoels, diabetes, droppy from valvelar heart diposes, dyspepsis, caterrhal inflammation of the atomach, nicer of the stomach or spicen, children with marannus, gout, rheumatism of the joints, gravel, &c., tyenty-six were entirely cured, three much improved, and one not treated long enough. Average time of treatment, four weeks.

The Carlebed Sprudel Sait (powder form) is an excellent appersest Learnive and Divertia. It clears the complesses, purities the Blood. It is easily soluble, plassant to take and permanent in action. The genuine product of the Carlebed Springs is exported in round bottles. Each bottle comes in a light blue paper carteon, and has the eignature, "Eismer & Mendelson Co.," sole agents, 6 Barclay street, on every bottle. One bottle mailed for one dollar. Dr. Tebeldi's lectures mailed free upon application.

NAT GOODWIN IN "A GOLD MINE."

Nat Goodwin, as he stood before a vast and ppeciative audience at the Fifth Avenue Theatre last night. twitched his rather remarkable lack property mustache and looked distinctly nervous. It was the night of his departure in the direction of legitimate comedy, from what, for want of a better name, must be called ille gitimate comedy.

Now, there was not the faintest reason on earth why Mr. Goodwin should have been neryous. So intense is his popularity that had be announced his intention of appearing as Hamlet, or declared that he was anxious to do a song and dance, the house would have been just as crowded. Mr. Goodwin has won his way into metropolitan favor, and though it is pretty certain that he could never have achieved that re sult with such a play as "A Gold Mine." Messrs. Brander Matthews and George H. Jessop's effort will not knock Mr. Goodwin from his pe destal.

The comedian did some work in "A Gold Mine" that perfectly justified the belief that he was artistically fitted for higher things than 'Lend Me Five Shillings" and "Turned Up. n the third act he had a love scene with Miss Kate Forsyth that he rendered admirably. It established the fact that he is an artist, though during the two preceding acts I confess that it was hard to believe it. In the love scene Mr. Goodwin forgot to "mug" at his audience: he played to Miss Forsyth alone, and his conception of the episode was most refreshing. There was no undue attempt at pathos, which

Mr. Goodwin does not understand-though he thinks he does; and there were none of the farsical distortions that were so irritating in the first two acts of the play. Mr. Goodwin did not wear a dress suit in this scene with Miss Forsyth. which was another point in his fevor. He is one of the actors who is not at home in broadcloth.

There are a great many good things in " / Gold Mine. " I imagine that they were supplied by Mr. Brander Matthews. The weak spots were Jessop, it was easy to see. Mr. Jessop believes in catching a laugh at any cost. There is nothing that he will not do with that end in view. Some of Mr. Goodwin's so-called spontaneous rejoinders were so labored that they failed to be amusing. They were Jessop, of course. I could see his traces all the time.

The story of "A Gold Mine" deals with the adventures of a young American with execrable manners in London. He has a gold mine to sell and stumbles into the household of a baronetfinancier. He falls in love with the baronet's sister, ascertains that she is in trouble because she is unable to raise £10,000 with which to pay off a nephew's debts, sells his gold mine to the baronet for that sum and wins the charming widow. That's the story of the play.

If two Englishmen had written "A Gold Mine" a howl would be raised at the idea of making an American so ill-bred that he could not recognize Sir Everard's butler or understand how to behave himself in a drawing-room. ... In my opinion. Silas K. Woolcott is a very badly drawn character, full of glaring inconsistencies and exaggerated heroism. Any man who could be as deliciously sympathetic as was Mr. Woolcott in the last act would never commit himself as unpardonably as did Mr. Woolcott in the first two acts. Let me give you an instance of what alluded to as traces of Jessop. Silas K. Woolcott is ushered into Sir Everard's drawing-room. Wilson, the pompous butler, espies him,

Wison, the pompous butler, espice him,

"Who are you?" asks Woolcott.

"I'm Sir Everard's butler."

"Any relation to Ben?"

Mr. Goodwin's company is a good one. Miss Kate Forsyth as Sir Everard's sister did some highly effective work, and wore some highly resplendent diamonds. Miss Forsyth's quiet methods and sympathetic presence were extremely pleasant. To Miss Ida Vernon was given a very stupid, thankless part—that of a lady who remembers the days when she played Juliet. Mrs. Vander wast is not an artistic "touch, and is entirely unnecessary, E. J. Buckley appeared as an Irish M. P., of which fact you were warned by an occasional, an unsuspected and an irrelevant bit of brogue. Robert G. Wilson was an excellent Sir Everard; Miss Nanette Comstock played what the profession call an "onlernoo" part, and Harry Eversfield made a very sickly and uninteresting son of the financier.

Sir Everard Foxwood's house at Kew was in fearfully bad taste. The blue and yellow furniture was truly wonderful. It was decidedly gaudy but not neat. Daly would have a fit if he saw it.

ALAN DALE.

Washington INAUGURAL CENTENNIAL Windows along the Route, Transient Board or Lodgings. Chaperons and Guides will be in Great Demand

MAKE YOUR DESIRE TO MEET ANY OF THE ABOVE REQUIREMENTS ENOWN THROUGH THE WORLD " WANT " COLUMNS. Advertisers can Register at the INFORMATION BUREAU of "THE WORLD'S" Uptows Of. Sec., 1267 Broadway.

To Strangers CONTEMPLATING VISITING THE METROPOLIS DURING THE WASHING.
TON IMAUGURAL ARE EXTENDED THE FACILITIES OF THE WORLD'S INFORMATION BUREAU AS ABOVE

HEADQUARTERS PERSONALS.

Dr. Cyrus Edson is so enraptured with hi brief experience as a Free Mason, that he proposes to push his way up to the Commandery

Clerk Craig, of the Health Bureau, is a great checker player and frequently tries conclusions with Champion Ensign, of the Tribuse police bureau.

Dr. John T. Nagle, of the Board of Health has started on his vacation, which he could not do during the Summer months. He will be missed. Supt. Murray writes from Florida that he has had luck as a fisherman on the St. John's River. He hauled in a twenty-pound bass. His health is improving greatly. Stephen McClave, brother of the Police Commissioner, owns one of the most valuable private libraries in the city. It includes 600 volumes of ancient history, and the rest is made up of standard works and rare books. Sergt, James K. Price was exhibiting his album of police officials recently to a well-known religious lady. As she gazed upon Inspector Steers's kindly face, she remarked: "Where have I seen that eminent divine?" Steers is greatly flattered.

Deputy Clerk William Delemater, of the Police Board, goes South on a well-earned vacation, His associates have presented to him an elegant pair of sleeve-buttons in gold and platina. A horn of plenty is the ornamentation, with a diamond in the centre.

We Shall See Barnum Again Seen Barnum & Bailey will regularly open their circus season of the greatest show on earth by a grand torch-light parade through the principal streets of the city on Friday night, March 22 (weather permitting), and the first performance will be given in Madison Square Garden on Saturday night, March 23. This year a new departure will be made, and the whole of the mammoth show will be presented on the opening night, instead of as in former years, exhibiting the circus portion first and afterwards adding the hippodrome races. During the past Winter a vast number of new attractions have been secured and the many new departments added, almost doubling the size of the shows. It is safe to say the shows this year will be the biggest, richest and best ever organized, as well as the most expensive ever presented by Barnum & Bailey. streets of the city on Friday night, March 22

A B C's in Fancy Dress. The A B & Club gave a fancy dress ball last night at the residences of Miss N. E. Stewart, 48 Lexington avenue. There was a large and select gathering and the ball was a great success.

NERVURA The Great Spring Restorative

(Guaranteed Purely Vegetable and Harmless).

It nerves the weary arm, strengthens the tired limbs, cures the aching head, removes nervousness and nervous weakness, banishes all tired feelings, soothes, calms and quiets the excitable and irritable nerves, produces natural and refreshing sleep, raises the gloom, depression and despondency from the mind, enriches and purifies the blood, cures neuralgia, rheumatism, palpitation of the heart, nervous debility, loss of memory, paralysis, numbness, trembling, hot flushes, female weaknesses, insanity, epileptic fits, dyspepsia, indigestion, loss of appetite, constipation, kidney disease, &c.

their own preparation or others upon which they make their own preparation or others upon which they make their own preparation or others upon which they make their own preparation or others upon which they make the cure of derivous and chronic diseases, and all who use it may consider themselves under his professional or billing from a consider when the cure of derivous and chronic diseases, and all who use it may consider themselves under his professional or billing from a consider when the cure of derivous and chronic diseases, and all who use it may consider themselves under his profession. you wish to be certain of being cured.

It is the Greatest Medical Discovery of the century. Price $1. For sale by all druggists.

> >>SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS OF

"A SERVANT OF SATAN." THE ASSASSIN PRADO'S CAREER.

The Riddle that the French Police Couldn't Solve

The mystarious assessin who was guillotined in December last at Paria, under the name of Prado, handed on the eve of his ascention a bundle of manuscript notes concerning his birth and peat career to a triend named Louis Bersard. These abundle of manuscript notes concerning his birth and peat career to a triend named Louis Bersard. These abundle of manuscript notes concerning his birth and peat the latery proved a riddle which the lime the romantic areary of the attraordinary crisinals whose the son of a well-known German General and statesman. The second of the state of the peathor of the second of the later King Frederick William IV of Prussia, young Waldberg meture his army, contracts a corresponding to the later King Frederick William IV of Prussia, young Waldberg meture his army, contracts a corresponding to the property of a his mistress, and strikes his colonel to the ground when the latter uses a coarse storession in referring to ber. He then deserts the army and becomes a Prussian outlaw. He robe his father and is discoved by his his butter. She is locked up by the police, while he leaves Paris for Egypt. There, in the course of a haren intrigue, he involuntarily kills the second wife of a powerful Pasha and escapes to India, where he ruins the daugnter of at English colonel, and accidentally kills a Hindoo widow whose house he subsequently robe, after seeing as innocent man suffer death for his crime. He returns to Paris, recognized by his wife, who has become a cocotte at the Mabilia, and ends by poscoping her for which crime he is sentenced by white wife, who has become a cocotte at the Mabilia, and ends by poscoping her for which crime he is sentenced by white wife, who has become a cocotte at the Mabilia, and ends by poscoping her for which crime he is sentenced by the wife, who has become a cocotte at the Mabilia, and ends by poscoping her for which crime he is sentenced by the wife, who has become a cocotte at the Mabilia, and ends by poscoping her for which crime he is sentenced by the wife, wh

Don't Miss the Continuation of this Most Remarkable Story in TO-MORROW MORNING'S WORLD.